The Mare Won Galloping; Last Saturday She Was Beaten Off.

ICE CREAM SERVED FREE.

Washington Jockey Club to Introduce a New Idea Next Saturday.

By Frank J. Bryan.

Washington, April 12.—The improvement shown by Imp was the feature of today's racing. It stood out prominently for the reason that few did, or will, consider it legitimate. It was expected that the mare would run a better race than when last out, but no one dared to expect the improvement shown.

On Saturday, with Scherr on, she was beaten at the end of five furlongs and finished a dozen lengths behind the winner. Today she went out from the fall of the flag and set a pace that the others could not negotiate. She continued on to the end without a falter, the race being one of the fastest of the meeting. Saturday the betting had an unhealthy look, her price declining from 7 to 10 to even money. Today even money was the first price posted, but it soon climbed to 3 to 1. This seemed to be the signal for the right money and when it came it was in bunches, 8 to 5 being the closing quotations.

There will be an unlooked-for factor in the Nursery Stakes next Saturday in Nutshell, a brown filly, by Hindoo-The Niece. Secretary Crickmore received word today that Clay & Woodford, her owners, had already shipped her and she is expected to arrive to-morrow. She has been trained by Eugene Leigh.

The management mean to make Saturday a banner day in the history of local racing. The programme will include, in addition to the Nursery Stakes, the Washington Handicap and the Jennings Stakes. The Marine Band has been engaged, and, as an innovation, ice cream and cake is to be served free to the ladies.

Duke of Middleburg and Vertigo, two pretty useful three-year-olds, have been sold by A. H. & D. H. Morris to G. W. Graydon, who is said to be acting as agent for one of the Wadsworth brothers. No price is mentioned, but unofficial figures are $3,500.

The racing during the afternoon was good. Tyrion, the odds-on favorite for the first race, was beaten by a head by Avoca, a 7 to 1 chance. Odum, who rode Tyrion, was in a measure responsible. He was in front until well in the last furlongs, with his horse under a nice pull. Had he opened up a gap when straightened out in the homestretch, as he could have done, he would have won, but he waited too long.

Deceptive graduated from the maiden class in the second race. She was second for half a mile, then took the lead, and at the end was just romping. William Jennings' Ruxton was wilder than a cat, as a good thing for the race, and he was played from 3 to 1 to 9 to 5.

One of the races scheduled for the Federal Stakes declined. Althea, Rosaryer and Honey Boy were the starters, and they all made too much use of Althea in the first half mile. Rosaryer was all out, but lost her half a length.

The two-year-olds, as expected, went to Prestidigitator, one of A. H. & D. H. Morris' lot. He is a fair-looking colt, and a pretty useful seller. He made a good thing of the running and won with a trifle to spare, by two lengths.

The closing entry was Imp's. She simply won running off. Alice Farley was second, and Double Dummy third. Decatur, the favorite, was last. Summaries:

CRACKS IN POOR FORM.

Grand American Handicap at Elkwood Park About Half Finished.

Misfortune overtook nearly all of the noted wing shots in the Grand American Handicap, which began yesterday morning at Elkwood Park, N. J. With the exception of J. A. R. Elliott, of Kansas City, and W. Crosby, the backmarkers failed to finish the ninth round with clean scores. McAlpin, Welch, Brewer, Fanning, Helges, Bingham, Parmelee, Sam Glover, Captain Money, C. W. Budd, Fulford, Dr. Carver, and Williamson had one more miss each against the bird at the third circuit of the three traps.

The several thousand spectators evinced greater interest in the women competitors and every time one of the trio fired the traps the crowd was dense. Mrs. W. P. Shattuck and Mrs. P. H. Murray both shot remarkably well. Mrs. Shattuck, who travelled all the way from Minneapolis with her husband, was under a physician's care only two weeks ago. The strain told on Mrs. Murray, who after one kill fainted, but quickly revived. Mrs. Shattuck only missed to the ninth was her sixth bird, a left quarterer. Mrs. Murray killed all except a deceptive low flying driver, her seventh bird.

The shooting was conducted with marvelous precision, none of the three traps having missed a shot. The women competitors were under a physician's care only two weeks ago. The strain told on Mrs. Murray, who after one kill fainted, but quickly revived. Mrs. Shattuck only missed to the ninth was her sixth bird, a left quarterer. Mrs. Murray killed all except a deceptive low flying driver, her seventh bird.

The remaining candidates were supplemented by eleven post entries. Their names and scores are: W. Crosby, 10 to 1, won by a head; Tyrion, 10 to 1, second; Odum, 100 to 1, third. Second Race—Maiden; three furlongs. Deceptive, 3 to 1, won by a head; Ruxton, 10 to 1, second; William Jennings' Ruxton, 10 to 1, third. Third Race—Federal Stakes; three furlongs. Prestidigitator, 3 to 1, won by two lengths; Althea, 10 to 1, second; Honey Boy, 10 to 1, third. Fourth Race—One-half mile. A. H. & D. H. Morris' colt, 3 to 1, won by two lengths; Rosaryer, 10 to 1, second; Double Dummy, 10 to 1, third. Fifth Race—One mile and a half. Jennings' Ruxton, 3 to 1, won by a head; Tyrion, 10 to 1, second; Odum, 100 to 1, third. Sixth Race—Two-year-olds; three furlongs. Prestidigitator, 3 to 1, won by two lengths; Althea, 10 to 1, second; Honey Boy, 10 to 1, third.

Most of the missing by the cracks took place early in the day. The morning was very hot and the birds did not outline distinctly against the cloudy sky. There was a brisk wind at the time, and this aided the pigeons in their flight or life. The women competitors were under a physician's care only two weeks ago. The strain told on Mrs. Murray, who after one kill fainted, but quickly revived. Mrs. Shattuck only missed to the ninth was her sixth bird, a left quarterer. Mrs. Murray killed all except a deceptive low flying driver, her seventh bird.

Robert A. Welch, who won the first Grand American Handicap in 1893, was the first of the prominent ones to fall. His first bird was a driving left quarterer, which he won off safely. Another left quarterer, his second shot, also defied the veteran's skill successfully. A twisting towerer, in the ninth round, was the third miss of Welch, who then decided that he was plainly out of the money, it would be useless to continue.

In the sixth, seventh and eighth, Helges disappeared by missing three birds in succession. The first two were left quarterers, and the third a swift driver. McAlpin, the amateur champion, failed to secure his sixth bird, which fell one of bounds. It was a screaming incomer, which described a curve as it soared in the air. McAlpin's gun went off too soon, but he winged the bird. It did not drop, and the second time he aimed deliberately, but did not strike. The injured bird buttered madly and coming down gradually, fell just outside the line.

Following is the score of the competitors at the end of the ninth round. Figures in parentheses denote the handicaps.
